1. APPLICATION CONDITIONS AND PROCEDURES

1.1 Submission of Application Form

- (b) The applicant and any family member listed in the application can only submit one application under this BTO exercise. If the applicant or any member listed in the application is listed in more than one application, all the applications will be disqualified.
- (c) Applicants can only apply for one town/estate and flat category.
- (d) Applicants who have earlier booked a flat from HDB or an Executive Condominium (EC) unit from a developer but wish to participate in this BTO exercise will have to cancel their booking first, before submitting a new application under this exercise (subject to current eligibility conditions). The usual forfeiture for such cancellation will apply and the applicants and the essential occupiers will not be eligible to apply for another flat from HDB within one year after cancellation of booking of the flat.
- (e) All applicants who have a chance to book a flat based on their balloted queue number will be deemed successful in their flat application.

- (f) Any request for cancellation of an application for this BTO exercise must be submitted and received by HDB within the application period. If the cancellation request is received after the application period, it will still be included in the balloting process and be assigned a queue number, where applicable. If the applicant has a chance to book a flat based on his/ her balloted queue number, it will be treated as one successful application.

1.2 Points to note for First-timer Applicants/Households

They are similarly subject to the terms mentioned in 1.2(b), 1.2(c) and 1.2(d). The above is not applicable for couples who had remarried or are remarrying each other after their divorce.

- 9.1 The applicant shall pay all rates, taxes, and charges imposed on the flat after the actual date of completion of the purchase.
- 9.2 The applicant shall not transfer, assign, mortgage, rent out or part with the possession of the flat or any part of the flat without the prior written consent of HDB.
- 9.3 The applicant shall keep in good and tenable repair and condition the interior of the flat including all fixtures and fittings.
- 9.4 The applicant shall notify HDB and obtain its prior written consent from the respective HDB Branch before making any alterations or additions to the flat.
- 9.5 The applicant must observe and comply with all lease administration conditions and policies for ownership of flats, which include the following:
 - (a) Subject to the prior written approval of HDB, the applicant and other essential occupiers must physically and continuously occupy the flat for a 10-year minimum occupation period before he can apply to sell it on the open market.

 - (d) Applicant and other essential occupiers are not allowed to rent out the whole flat throughout the ownership.
 - (e) Applicant must inform HDB of any changes to his household composition in the flat, including changes in marital status.
 - (f) Applicant and other essential occupiers have to comply with such other conditions as determined by HDB from time to time.
- 9.6 Due to the additional subsidies given for purchase of the Flat, the Flat owners must pay to HDB a fixed percentage of (known as a subsidy recovery amount):

- (i) the higher of the resale price or the valuation (where HDB assesses that a valuation is required at its sole discretion) of the whole Flat, when they dispose of the Flat by way of resale (in whole or part); or
- (ii) the valuation of the Flat (where the consideration for the surrender or compulsory acquisition under the Housing and Development Act 1959, 2020 Revised Edition is based on the valuation, if so determined by HDB at its sole discretion), when they dispose of the Flat by way of surrender or if the flat is compulsorily acquired by HDB under the Housing and Development Act 1959, 2020 Revised Edition; or
- (iii) the valuation of the lease of the Flat to be sold to HDB under the Lease Buyback Scheme (LBS), when they undergo the LBS transaction.

The payment of the subsidy recovery amount based on the formula above, is a means for HDB to recover the additional subsidies upon disposal of any interest in the Flat or if the flat is compulsorily acquired by HDB. This is in addition to any resale levy which may be payable.

In the case of joint tenancy, all owners of the Flat will be equally liable for the subsidy recovery amount. As for tenancy-in-common, all owners will be liable for the subsidy recovery amount according to their shares in the Flat. Should any owner(s) pass on before the disposal of any interest in the Flat, the full liability for the subsidy recovery amount will fall on the remaining owner(s); and/or the administrator/executor of the late owner's estate; and/or any persons who acquired an interest in the Flat by way of inheritance or gift, upon disposal of any interest in the Flat. Should any owner(s) transfer his/her interest in the Flat, the full liability for the subsidy recovery amount will fall on the remaining and/or new owner(s), upon disposal of any interest in the Flat, except by way of another transfer.

- 9.7 The payment of the subsidy recovery amount in Clause 9.6 upon the disposal of any interest in the Flat will be prioritised ahead of all other charges/deductions/refunds (e.g. refund of CPF/outstanding mortgage loan etc) except for any outstanding property tax. If there are insufficient proceeds for the payment of the subsidy recovery amount, the shortfall will be treated as a debt owing to HDB by all owners and/or the administrator/executor at the point of disposal.
- 9.8 If the subsidy recovery amount under Clause 9.6 is not fully paid, HDB reserves the right to revoke its consent to the disposal of any interest in the Flat.
- 9.9 If the applicants fail or refuse to comply with Clauses 9.5, HDB has the right to compulsorily acquire the Flat under the Housing & Development Act 1959, 2020 Revised Edition or recover the subsidy recovery amount under Clause 9.6 as a debt and HDB will be claiming from the applicants all costs and expenses (including but not limited to legal costs and administrative fee).
- 9.10 Prime Location Public Housing flats may only be sold or transferred or otherwise disposed to buyers (or such other persons as may be acquiring the flat or an interest in
